In that whole riot of imaginary nonsense which G. K. Chesterton gave to the world under the heading of George Bernard Shaw, there stands out one very fine and very true thing the summary of Shaws ennobling influence on the spirit of his age. The rest of the book is worthless as a criticism of Shaw though interesting as a revelation of Chesterton. The thing that alienated most people from Shaw was precisely the thing that first drew me to him; I mean the pamphlet entitled Common-sense about the War which he issued in November, 1914. It is the greatest piece of journalism, the finest tract for the times, he has ever written. It should be republished in a small pocket edition and presented to every budding politician as a model of how statesmen ought to use their heads when other people lose theirs. It is the classic text-book of mental balance and sobriety. Incidentally, too, it was...
