

How to Make Your Low-Budget or No-Budget Digital Movie

By David F Curran

Createspace, United States, 2011. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Large Print. 279 x 216 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .You can make your feature film even with very little money. The author s first feature film KNAPTID: 4 DAYS AFTER THE FIRST ABDUCTION was made with a minuscule budget of $6,000. This budget went almost entirely to actor s salaries. If you can find actors to work for nothing, or who are willing the defer their salaries, you could make your feature film for much much less. This book describes with detailed example how you can make your movie on an almost non-existent budget. It discusses everything you need to know from getting or writing a great story to dealing with actors. It gives guidelines to choosing and obtaining equipment rather than going in depth on specific equipment which due to today s rapidly advancing technology may be outdated tomorrow. It discusses the important issues you as a filmmaker need to know. Do you need workman s comp? How do you plan to shoot your movie? Do you always have to have permission? (The author describes how making his first short film--a film that was...
