Suddenly the ancient continent disappeared, washed out by a wave against the sky; and with it vanished the last shreds of that accursed nightmare which had possessed her for four endless years. But whether during those unreal years her soul had only been held in bondage, or whether, as she had been taught, it had been irrevocably destroyed, she still remained uncertain, knowing nothing about the death of souls or how it was accomplished. As she stood there, her sad eyes fixed on the misty East, a passenger passing an Englishwoman paused to say something kind to the young American; and added, if there is anything my husband and I can do it would give us much pleasure. The girl had turned her head as though not comprehending. The other woman hesitated. This is Doctor Nornes daughter, is it not she inquired in a pleasant voice. Yes, I am Tressa Norne. . . . I ask your pardon. . . . Thank you, madam: I am I seem to be a trifle dazed What wonder, you poor child! Come to us if you feel need of companionship. You are very kind. . . . I seem to wish to be alone, somehow. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
