Penguin. 1 Paperback(s), 2010. soft. Book Condition: New. Having moved gracefully from Nashville stardom to critical success as a singer-songwriter and author of essays and short stories, Rosanne Cash here offers a candid and beautifully written account of her life so far. From memories of her close, complex relationship with her father Johnny Cash to her own struggles and triumphs in the music business, from her first marriage to country music star Rodney Crowell to the fulfillment of motherhood and a new beginning in New York with husband and musical collaborator John Leventhal, this is Cash's testament to the power of art, tradition, and love to transform a life."Rosanne Cash is a gifted writer who has led an extraordinary lifebut what stays with you from this beautiful book is how she makes the particular universal. She makes us feel the contradictory emotions of being someone's child, someone's lover, and someone's parent. She reminds us of the ecstasy of falling in love and the heartbreak of bad endings. She shares the hardest lessonsfacing mortality in our loved ones and in ourselvesas eloquently as she makes us appreciate the thousand small joys in this passing world. Composed is more than the story of her life. It's the story of all our lives."Bill Flanagan"This work is a rare treat, as Cash, firstborn to country music legend Johnny Cash, is not only a hereditary celebrity musician, having made scores of albums and #1 singles, but a terrific writer in her own right. Indeed, her memoir is an intensely reflective, carefully hewn chronicle of her coming-into-her-own as a writer. Born in 1955 to Johnny Cash's little-known first wife, Vivian, just at the breakthrough of her father's music career with the hit 'Cry, Cry, Cry,' Cash describes herself as a 'pudgy, withdrawn girl' already aware that...
